WEATHER Rain Tuesday; fair and warmer Wednesday

NO. 8820—34TH YEAR | COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., TUESDAY, APRIL 25, 1905 | PRICE FIVE CENTS

Storm Caused Damage to Railroads and to Crops

Heavy Precipitation Reported in Colorado, Kansas, Wyoming and New Mexico Which Has Been Exceeded Only Four Times Since 1876.

DENVER, April 24.—In the rain and snow storm that began early Sunday and continued until noon today, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico received a far greater precipitation of moisture than is usual at this season of the year. The precipitation in Denver during the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock a. m. registered 2.30 inches. This record has been exceeded only four times since 1876. In Pueblo the precipitation for the same period was 1.78 and at Dodge City, Kas., 2.06.

Miles of telegraph and telephone wires prostrated by the heavy snow and communication with many points was interrupted. For safety trains were run slowly.

The damage to trees and shrubbery in this city was considerable and in some districts fruit trees and early crops were damaged.

Train service on all roads in Colorado was delayed by the storm. A landslide in the Royal Gorge on the main line of the Rio Grande covered the track and delayed traffic for several hours. In the Cripple Creek district the snow fall was extremely heavy and trains were operated with great difficulty.

Water Main Washed Out

BUSINESS SECTION OF TRINIDAD ENTIRELY WITHOUT WATER SUPPLY ON ACCOUNT OF THE FLOOD.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 24.—Two feet of wet, heavy snow covers this section and the indications tonight are that the storm is not yet over, as the weather is still threatening. The Purgatoire river, which overflowed its banks last fall and caused damage to the Santa Fe railroad estimated at a half million dollars, is rising rapidly and grave fears are entertained that the result may be repeated. Some sections of the road recently repaired were damaged today by the overflowing of the river.

A small bridge on the Colorado & Southern road was washed out today, delaying traffic several hours. Owing to the destruction of the water main supplying Trinidad the business section of the city is entirely without water. The main cannot be repaired until the river recedes. A temporary foot and wagon bridge connecting North and South Trinidad has been wrecked. Many bad rock slides are reported to have blocked traffic today on the Colorado & Wyoming railroad. Telegraph and telephone lines have suffered considerably.

New Mexico Is a Storm Sufferer

SANTA FE TRAINS ARE HELD BY FLOODS AND SOFT TRACK NEAR BLUE WATER.

THOREAU, N. M., April 24.—Heavy rains for the past two days, augmented by melting snow in the mountains, have caused a blockade on the Santa Fe between Blue Water and Grant's, N. M.

The last train to pass that point was No. 7 westbound, which passed at 8 o'clock this morning. There has been no train east since No. 8 last night. As yet no track has been washed away and all bridges are holding well, but the track is soft in several places and is considered to be in an unsafe condition. Gangs of men are at work repairing the damaged roadbed, which should be passable in a few hours.

Within the last ten days three feet of snow has fallen in the Zuni mountains and the recent warm weather has caused all streams in this vicinity to rise to an unprecedented degree.

Bigelow of Milwaukee Used Bank Funds in Speculation

His Confession Shows Defalcation to Amount to Over $1,450,000 Which Has Largely Gone Into Wall Street and to Bull the Wheat Market.

MILWAUKEE, April 24.—Frank G. Bigelow until today president of the First National bank of Milwaukee was arrested today charged with the embezzlement of over $10,000 of the bank's funds.

The arrest of Bigelow followed his confession to the board of directors of the bank that he was a defaulter to the extent of $1,450,000. Following Mr. Bigelow's confession he was removed from the presidency of the bank and the facts in the case were laid before the federal authorities.

Under Heavy Bond.

The complaint was sworn to by United States District Attorney H. K. Butterfield. It charges that Bigelow, as president of the First National bank embezzled a sum exceeding $100,000. A complaint and warrant also in with those of Bigelow's case were made out for Henry G. Goll, assistant cashier of the bank, but Goll could not be found up to 11 o'clock tonight. President Bigelow was taken before United States Commissioner Bloodgood tonight. He waived a hearing and was held to the federal grand jury under $25,000 bond. Dr. Horace M. Brown and Arthur N. McGeoch qualified as sureties and Mr. Bigelow was released. The next federal grand jury has not yet been summoned but it is expected it will meet some time this month.

Bigelow's Confession.

President Bigelow's confession was made at a special meeting of the board of directors held Saturday evening and night. In addressing his fellow directors President Bigelow said he had a painful statement to make—a confession that he had misdirected the funds of the bank and that an examination of his books and a comparison of figures would show that he was indebted to the bank to the amount of over $1,450,000. This money, he said, had been lost in speculation in wheat and stocks. Not a dollar of it could be recovered and the only sum he could offer toward recompensating the bank were personal securities valued at approximately $300,000.

Leader in Financial Matters.

The confession of President Bigelow astounded the directors of the bank. Mr. Bigelow had been recognized as one of the foremost financiers of the northwest. He has been associated with the First National bank in various capacities for more than 15 years and his business connections—trust companies, manufacturing concerns, real estate deals and other similar ventures—number scores. He was honored a year ago by election to the presidency of the American Bankers' association and by its members was looked upon as a leader in financial matters.

In making his statement to the directors of the bank Mr. Bigelow said he had become involved in speculation several months ago. This was on Wall Street. More recently he had been a persistent bull in the wheat market and recent losses there had added to heavy reverses on Wall Street. From small appropriations of the bank's funds he had extended the defalcations until his shortage had reached the present stage. He saw no opportunity nor possibility of making up the amount and therefore confessed.

Stormy Meeting of Directors.

It is stated that the meeting of the directors which was almost continuous for 36 hours, was stormy at times. Several plans were suggested for protecting the interests of the bank. One was to accept the resignation of the president, permit him to go to Europe and the directors make good the amount of his shortage. This would effectually protect the bank. The proposal met determined opposition of the directors who demanded that the defaulter be punished. A plan to make up the shortage was then approved. Bigelow was removed from the presidency of the bank and the case was referred to the federal authorities.

Egg Rolling at the White House

THE ANNUAL EASTER MONDAY EVENT PARTICIPATED IN BY THE ROOSEVELT CHILDREN.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Easter Monday was celebrated by the children of Washington with their annual egg rolling on the White house grounds.

For this festival heretofore the grounds have been given up to the children for the entire day, but this year it was determined by Colonel Bromwell, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, to limit the festivities on the White house grounds from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

At the latter hour the grounds were cleared of the crowd, the people being directed to the White lot, immediately south of the White house grounds proper, where the children continued their annual romp during the remainder of the afternoon.

The change in the program from that of previous years was the subject of some sharp criticism of those in charge of the arrangements for the festival. Hundreds of parents, accompanied by their children, did not arrive at the White house grounds until afternoon, and many of them did not conceal their disapproval of the order to leave the grounds.

Mrs. Roosevelt invited a party of friends to view the egg rolling from the south portico of the White house.

The young Roosevelt children, with some of their playmates, participated for a time in the frolic, having evidently a joyous time.

During the afternoon the Marine band gave a concert on the White lot, which attracted thousands of people.

Unusual Step by Humane Society

NO TEAMS ALLOWED ON THE STREETS OF HIGHLANDS AND NORTH DENVER ON ACCOUNT OF MUD.

DENVER, April 24.—The Humane society took an unusual step today, when it ordered that no teams should be driven over the streets in Highlands and North Denver. The mud was so deep as a result of the storm that the society considered it inhuman to compel horses to pull even empty wagons through the streets of the sections referred to.

Trainmen of the Rock Island reported to the society that between Lyman and Denver numerous cattle had wandered from the prairies into the railroad cuts for protection from the storm and that a half dozen or more had been killed by trains.

Delegation From Chamber of Commerce Confers With Secretary Loeb.

The delegation was composed of J. S. Temple and C. H. Reynolds. The purpose of their visit chiefly was to induce the president to leave Glenwood Springs during the night of May 14 in order to give an entire day to Denver.

Secretary Loeb said there will be no change in the plans which are for a daylight trip through the mountains of Colorado. No word has come from the president's camp today.

Supreme Court Refuses a Writ

WILL NOT ASSUME ORIGINAL JURISDICTION IN CASE OF INDICTED ELECTION OFFICIALS IN PUEBLO.

DENVER, April 24.—The supreme court today refused to take original jurisdiction on the application for a writ of habeas corpus of E. H. Wilson of Pueblo, one of the election officials indicted by the grand jury there.

Chief Justice Gabbert, in making the ruling, said that the court had no intention of passing on the merits of the applicant's contention, but that it had been decided to enforce the rule against taking original jurisdiction more strictly in the future.

Wilson's attorneys were reminded of the fact that the district court of Pueblo had power to review the case on a writ of error. John M. Waldron and Lyman Henry, of Denver, and F. R. McAliney, of Pueblo, appeared for Wilson. They contend that the indictment against Wilson was defeated by the action of the recent legislature in striking from the Booth registration bill the proviso legalizing indictments made under the statute repealed by the Booth measure.

DENVER, April 24.—Governor McDonald today appointed the three commissioners to the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland. They are Colonel W. A. Hogle, Denver; Eugene Grubb, Carbondale, and E. Lyman White, state commissioner of mines, Denver.

The latter will have charge of the mining exhibit, which will be practically the same as the one Colorado had at the St. Louis fair. Mr. Grubb will look after the livestock features and Colonel Hogle will attend to the remainder of the exhibit.

[illegible] thousand dollars was [illegible] by the legislature to [illegible] Colorado be represented [illegible] Portland fair. As the larger portion of the display will be made up of the state exhibit at St. Louis, it is believed this amount will prove ample to give Colorado a creditable exhibit.

Mining Companies Will Sue W. F. of M. for $1,000,000

Colorado Springs Attorneys to Push Cases in District and Federal Courts as Result of Famous Strike Declared in Cripple Creek Nearly Two Years Ago.

Suits for damages aggregating $1,000,000 will be filed today and tomorrow in the district and federal courts in Denver by several prominent mining companies operating in the Cripple Creek district against the Western Federation of Miners as a direct outcome of the famous strike of more than a year ago. Should the companies be successful, the federation will probably be bankrupted.

The companies bringing the suits, the majority of them having their main office in Colorado Springs, are as follows:

United States Reduction and Refining company; Vindicator Consolidated Gold Mining company; Granite Gold Mining company; Golden Cycle Gold Mining company; Elkton Consolidated Mining and Milling company; Mary McKinney Mining company; El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company; Stratton's Independence, Limited; Findley Gold Mining company.

Defendants in the suits are:

Western Federation of Miners, as an organization; Charles Moyer, president W. F. of M.; William D. Haywood, secretary of W. F. of M.; Frank Schmelzer, member executive board W. F. of M.; John M. O'Neil, member of executive board W. F. of M.; Charles G. Kennison, president union No. 40, Cripple Creek W. F. of M.; A. G. Paul, secretary union No. 40, Cripple Creek W. F. of M.; Arthur Parker, member of W. F. of M.; P. M. Mullaney, member of W. F. of M.; D. C. Copley, member of W. F. of M.

The petitions will allege conspiracy on the part of Moyer, Haywood and others and of the federation, as an organization to injure the property and business of the plaintiffs.

Several of the leading law firms of this city have been retained by the several mining companies. The United States has Hall, Babbitt & Thayer; Potter & Banks represent the Vindicator; C. C. Hamlin the Granite; H. M. McGary the Golden Cycle; Gunnell & Chinn the Elkton, Mary McKinney and El Paso, and Schuyler & Schuyler the Findley.

The suits are by far the most important mining suits ever filed in the state and should they be successful and judgment should be secured against the federation for $1,000,000 it would mean the draining of the federation treasury and, it is said, result in the collapse of the organization.

Lawyers for the mining companies have been instructed to push the case with vigor and every effort will be made by them to secure judgments for the full amount in each case. These amounts vary, that of the Vindicator, for example being $47,000.

The suits are of vital importance to the federation as well as to mining men, not only in the state of Colorado, but throughout the United States. Should the companies be successful there is no doubt but similar suits against the federation, Moyer, Haywood and individuals of the organization would be filed in other sections of Colorado and where the federation has had strikes.

The suits to be filed are similar, except as to the damages claimed by each.

The defendants are accused of wrongfully, maliciously and without lawful excuse of conspiring and combining and of preventing the plaintiff from mining and shipping ore and "inducing the workmen and employes of the plaintiff and other mine owners as aforesaid to cease working and not to work for the further purpose of preventing employes and others from working for the plaintiff and other mine owners."

The complaint charges that by unlawful combination and conspiracy the federation "wrongfully, maliciously and without authority did, or caused to be done, divers overt acts" for the purpose of preventing the mining and shipment of ore.

The complaint further charges that on August 10, 1903, the defendants caused a strike in the Cripple Creek district and enticed and coerced miners to quit work. The Vindicator complaint states that the strike seriously injured its pumping facilities, and that at the 1,200-foot level it cost $3,000 to prevent the water from flooding the workings.

Other complaints also dwell on this phase of the strike.

The defendants are accused of preventing other than former employes of the various companies from going to work, and that as a result of "this conspiracy, combination and coercion" the companies were compelled to shut down their pumps and the workings were submerged. The Vindicator estimates its losses as follows:

Stoppage of pumps and submersion of workings, $10,000.

Loss of profits, $10,000.

Cost of removing water from workings, $10,000.

General damage, $5,000.

The complaint says "that in forming the combination and conspiracy and in carrying it into effect and doing all the wrongful acts and causing the damage to plaintiff the acts of the federation have been accompanied with circumstances of malice and insult and of wanton and reckless disregard of the rights of plaintiff herein, and the defendants and each of them have been guilty and were guilty of malice by reason whereof the plaintiff should recover exemplary damages in the sum of $10,000."

In each of the complaints the wording is practically the same, the only exceptions being that the specific charges of damages differs to fit the individual case.

Hines' Argument Before the Senate Commerce Committee

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Before the Senate committee on interstate commerce today Walker D. Hines formerly of the Louisville and Nashville railroad argued that the present law was sufficient to control railroad tariffs. He said in part:

Hines' Argument.

The interstate commerce act as at present amended prohibits every unreasonable and every unjustly discriminatory rate. The interstate commerce commission may itself originate complaints concerning any supposed violation of the law.

If it finds any rate to be unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory the carrier must be ordered to cease and desist from continuing to charge that rate.

If the carrier does not comply with such order the commission or any person interested may bring suit and it becomes the duty of the circuit court to afford a speedy hearing and to make and enforce a decree compelling obedience to the commission's order if that order be found to be lawful.

On any such hearing the commission's findings are prime facie evidence as to every act found so that the presumption is always in favor of the commission's orders.

Appeal to Supreme Court.

An appeal lies to the supreme court from the decree of a circuit court in any such case, but contrary to the general impression this appeal cannot suspend or postpone the taking effect of the decree of the circuit court.

If the circuit court decrees obedience to the commission's order the carrier must at once obey it, notwithstanding any appeal unless the circuit court itself is of opinion that justice demand that it should suspend the operation of its decree [illegible] on orders, and if it so orders it can [illegible] as it sees fit upon the carrier as to a bond or otherwise.

The Elkins Act.

A distinct and very important procedure is provided by the Elkins act whereby as to any unjustly discriminatory rates the commission in the first instance and without any formal hearing or order may bring suit in the circuit court to enjoin a continuance of the discrimination. This avoids all the delay incident to a formal hearing before the commission. Although the applicability of this procedure to unjust discrimination in tariff rates even between different localities was more than two years ago expressly declared by the supreme court to exist under the Elkins act, and although it is evidently a convenient and speedy way of preventing unjust discriminations, it has never been resorted to in a single instance.

Thus there is in the present law ample provision for the correction by the courts of every unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory rate, with special provision for the speedy disposition of all such cases and with special provision to prevent any delay on account of appeals by the carriers. Therefore the widely prevalent impression that under the present law carriers may at their pleasure and without control, charge unreasonable, high and unjustly discriminating rates, is thoroughly erroneous. On the other hand, every rate charged by a carrier is subject to the direct and effective control of the courts of the United States to prevent such rate from violating the interstate commerce law in any respect. It is the courts and not as frequently claimed the carriers who are the judges of what is reasonable and just under the law.

Law Is Adequate.

This preventative method of dealing with unlawful rates was deliberately adopted by congress, but has never been found insufficient in a single case, and therefore it is an unwarranted attack upon the law to assume without any facts to support the argument that this remedy is worthless, especially when the nature of the remedy and the experience under it go to show that it is substantial and effective.

The numerous failures of the commission in litigation have not been due to any defect in the law but have been due invariably either to the commission's adoption of illegal methods or to the commission's mistaken condemnation of practices not prohibited by law.

Additional Remedy.

An additional remedy of considerable importance which is exercised from time to time and which doubtless could be exercised much more freely if its use were encouraged, is that whereby the commission may award reparation to any person aggrieved by the carrier's charging any unlawful rate.

Notwithstanding the interstate commerce act provides a definite and practical method of correcting all unlawful rates there is undoubtedly a somewhat general impression that the act is [illegible] futile, worthless and it is necessary to a complete understanding of the situation to find the source of this opinion.

The opinion is undoubtedly due to repeated public declarations by the interstate commerce commission and its members that under the present law the carriers are utterly beyond any control as to interstate commerce. This view has been frequently stated in many different forms by members and officers of the commission in [illegible] papers, interviews, magazine articles and [illegible]. The same idea has been repeated and set forth in the official annual reports of the commission.

SQUADRON MOVES WITHOUT A BATTLE

Rojestvensky's Warships Last Seen 2[illegible] Miles Northeast of Kamranh Bay---Oyama Awaits Results of Naval Battle.

SAIGON, April 24.—According to the last news received here, the Russian squadron was [illegible] miles from the coast. The vessels were steering northward.

TOKIO, April 24.—Information is keenly awaited regarding the movements of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. It is generally believed that the Russian warships will either continue north from Kamranh bay until they reach Chinese waters outside the territorial limit, or enter the Pacific ocean.

KAMRANH BAY, Indo China, Via Saigon, April 24.—11:30 a. m.—The Russian squadron consisting of fifty-two ships, including transports left Kamranh Bay at noon April 22, and the main portions soon disappeared in a northerly direction. Sixteen vessels, the Russian cruiser Svietlana, the Russian hospital ship Orel, four German transports, seven Danish transports, and three Russian transports, remained in the offing.

Fishermen and others assert that they heard heavy cannonading off Kamranh Bay during the evening of April 22.

Those who saw Admiral Rojestvensky prior to his departure say he is suffering with dysentery accompanied by severe pains. All the officers and crews of the Russian ships appeared to be full of confidence.

It is believed here that it is Admiral Rojestvensky's intention to do everything possible to have Admiral Nebogatoff join him before undertaking a decisive battle.

A torpedo boat destroyer is patrolling the coast. The French third class cruiser Descartes left here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a point on the coast where a fisherman reports that he saw twenty warships. The man, however, was unable to give their nationality.

NO CONFIRMATION OF REPORTED BATTLE

PARIS, April 24.—1:20 p. m.—The foreign office and other government departments and the bourse were closed today in connection with the Easter holidays, which with the Easter adjournment of both branches of parliament and the departure of President Loubet and most of the ministers, except Foreign Minister Delcasse, to attend the unveiling of the Gambetta statue at Bordeaux, has resulted in a period of calm after the excitement attending the Delcasse incident and the Japanese protest.

The foreign office was open briefly at noon when it was said that no confirmation had been received of the reported cannonading outside of Kamranh Bay during the night of April 22, the day Admiral Rojestvensky left the coast of Annam.

The officials here discredit the report that the crew of the interned Russian cruiser Diana now at Hai Fong joined Admiral Rojestvensky previous to his sailing.

OYAMA WILL WAIT RESULT OF BATTLE

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The news from Manchuria indicates that Field Marshal Oyama's plans await the result of the naval battle, it being too risky for the Japanese army to undertake serious operations while the outcome of the sea fight is in the balance. Should Admiral Rojestvensky reach Vladivostok and Admiral Togo still be able to protect the Japanese lines of communications the general belief at the war office is that the Japanese will attempt to cut off and invest Vladivostok, and make of the place another Port Arthur.

ACCEPTS WITH RESERVE STORY OF SEA FIGHT

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—11 a. m.—The admiralty is disposed to accept with reserve all foreign telegrams announcing the whereabouts of Vice Admiral Kamura and the Japanese ships, believing that many of them are purposely sent out for strategical deception.

The Novoe Vremya this morning prints a rumor that the opposing squadrons were already engaged Saturday, but the paper has nothing to support the report and no credence is placed in it.

CRUISER DIANA HAS NOT JOINED SQUADRON

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The report that the crew of the Russian cruiser Diana, interned at Saigon after the battle of August 10, but recently undergoing repairs at Haifong, Tonquin, had joined Admiral Rojestvensky, at Kamranh bay, previous to the sailing of the Russian squadron, April 22, is denied here.

JOSEPH HUSTED DEAD.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Jos. Burtis Husted, once a wealthy Wall street broker, is dead at the hospital on Ward's Island. For a year past he had lived at a cheap hotel maintaining himself by dealing in second-hand watches. Financial reverses overtook him some years ago and he never was able to recoup his fortune.

HUNTING PARTY STARTS OUT EARLY TODAY ON BEAR TRACKS

Special to the Gazette

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, April 24.—No word has been received from President Roosevelt's new camp which was established on the west divide on Saturday. A courier is expected to arrive today or tomorrow morning.

NEWCASTLE, April 24.—Several hundred people visited President Roosevelt's new camp on the old Bogue ranch on West Divide creek, about 15 miles northwest of this place, to pay their respects to the president.

They were received by the president in his shirt sleeves and told to make themselves at home. He talked to a large number of the visitors and did not seem to mind the intrusion. A number of school teachers from Glenwood Springs were among the Sunday callers.

The weather is bright and clear today and early this morning the presidential party started out on the trail of a big bear uncovered yesterday while the guide was out looking for stock. If the bear has not too good a start the chances are good that he will be killed before night.

The round-up of the bruin tribe will be begun in earnest today. The camp is in a splendid locality and it is intended to hunt from now on in a systematic manner. Heretofore the hunting has been somewhat haphazard, but the president and his party wished to get acquainted with the ground.

The new location is in the heart of bear country and if there are any out, it is safe to say that the party will get its share. The members of the party, with the exception of the president and particularly the guides, have been somewhat disheartened over the absence of bear, and the heavy snowfall, but the president knows bear habits and takes things philosophically. He knows that bruin will not come out while there is too much snow on the ground when he would have to skirmish hard for sustenance, but will wait for warmer weather.

The president says he came to Colorado for a rest, and that the hunting trip was merely a diversion. He enjoys camp life and no one can take things more philosophically than he. When Guide Borah complained of the scarcity of bear, and the heavy snow, the president is said to have told him that the moisture was needed more than the party needed the bear. In his opinion if the bear do not come out just now they will before he leaves, and if the party kills one more of the tribe, which is most unlikely, the president will be satisfied.

The people of Newcastle were somewhat disappointed because the president did not come out of the woods and attend the Easter service at the Congregational church, but then he was hardly expected.

From now on the president will sleep in a tent in the open. His health and appetite are of the best. Only plain camp fare is now set before the president but he eats heartily and enjoys every meal Jack Frye sets before him. Dr. Lambert remonstrated with the president, warning him that he might get indigestion, but the president only laughed and asked him who ever heard of anyone's getting indigestion from camp fare. And the doctor has to admit that the president has the best of the argument.

NAN PATTERSON AGAIN IN COURT

STATEMENT MADE BY PROSECUTING ATTORNEY THAT HE EXPECTS TO CONVICT WOMAN.

NEW YORK, April 24.—For the third time within a period of six months Nan Patterson today sat in court and listened to Assistant District Attorney Rand explain to a jury, what he as the public prosecutor, purposed to do to convince them that she was guilty of the murder of "Caesar" Young.

In her previous trials the young woman had had the comfort of her father's presence by her side, but today, she sat alone, Recorder Goff having ruled that scenes which might act upon the sympathy of the jurors must be avoided.

While the outline of the people's case as given by Mr. Rand today was practically a repetition of those which have gone before, it differed in some material respects.

Much of the evidence given at other trials will not be presented this time, it appears, while the prosecution promises to introduce some entirely new features.

In opening his address, Mr. Rand urged the jurors to forget all that has been said and published about previous prosecutions of the prisoner and to begin with an entirely fair and unbiased mind.

"This has been a most sensational case," he said, "and you are facing a hard ordeal, particularly on account of the sex of the defendant. But this is not a court of chivalry or a court of morals—it is a court of law."

He warned them that the fact that an indictment had been returned against the prisoner must have no weight with them and that they must not consider as against her the prisoner's mode of life. He concluded, however, that it was a misconception to believe that her character had nothing to do with the case.

This, he believed, would have a most important bearing as showing a possible motive for the crime.

At the conclusion of Prosecutor Rand's argument Miss Patterson was taken with a sudden faintness and Recorder Goff ordered a recess immediately. The defendant revived when the court room windows were opened and was able to walk unassisted back to her cell in the Tombs.

ATTACK ON WHEAT

Price of May is Forced Below Saturday's Figure.

CHICAGO, April 24.—A double back somersault was performed in May wheat today. Instead of settling into a reminiscence the option promptly started this morning with a repetition of last week's sensational acrobatics.

Some of the first trades showed a fall off of four cents a bushel, the price opening at 96 to 98, as against $1 at the close on Saturday.

After the initial plunge the price for May showed a tendency to rally, reacting temporarily to 95 3-4.

If the selling was from representatives of J. W. Gates, it was well disguised, the market presenting the appearance of a general bearish attack, rather than an attempt at further liquidation of holdings acquired during an attempted corner.

The market recovered at 97 3-4. Fresh selling, however, from outside sources soon pounded the market down worse than before, May dropping to 88 1-2, a net loss of 6 1-2 cents a bushel, compared with Saturday's close.

At 88 1-2 the market had a fall of nearly thirty cents from the point at which Gates was supposed to be in full control of the deal some weeks ago.

Later another cent was clipped from the price of May option, sales being made at 92 1-2 cents. District delivery finally yielded to the fresh break in May. The July option selling off to 84 3-4. Improved demand was manifested during the last hour of trading and the market became quite steady. At the close May was off 7 cents at 93. Final quotations on July were down 2 cents at 84 3-4 a 7-8.

HUGE LANDSLIDE

EARTH AND ROCKS FILL A CUT 25 FEET DEEP ON UNION PACIFIC NEAR EDSON, WYOMING.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 24.—The landslide at Edson, which caused the wreck of a Union Pacific freight train on Saturday night, fills a cut 250 feet long and twenty feet in depth. Sixteen passenger trains and an immense amount of freight, including several fruit specials are stalled. Temporary track will be completed tomorrow morning, mails and passengers are now being transferred by wagons. A heavy snow is impeding the work of wrecking crews. The cut will not be clear for thirty days.

MANY INJURED BY COSSACKS

VLADIKAVKAZ, North Caucasia, April 24.—The spring festival today was turned into a revolutionary demonstration. Cossacks and police dispersed the crowds, using the flats of their swords. Many persons were injured, including some women and children, but none is reported to have been killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The news from Poland paints a picture of veritable terror before the expected storm. A letter received here reads: "You know what happened at Warsaw but you only know part of what is occurring throughout the country. All Poland is in a great conflagration of socialism, terror of which is everywhere exciting a terrible panic.

IMMENSE BIRD IN AGUILAR FOSSIL BEDS

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 24.—Part of the fossilized remains of a giant bird were brought to this city by a ranchman from Aguilar yesterday. It is a fossil head fully as large as a horse's and exactly like a bird's. An enormous bird-shaped bill is plainly traced, as are the eyes and a portion of the neck. The body of the bird must have been of gigantic proportions. The fossil will be sent to the Smithsonian institute at Washington for examination. It is a very perfect specimen, and it is believed that it will be the means of tracing another prehistoric creature hitherto unknown.

CONTRIBUTIONS WERE HEAVY

OVER $250,000 GIVEN ON EASTER SUNDAY AT VARIOUS CHURCHES IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Easter contributions to the churches of this city are estimated to have considerably exceeded $250,000. Indeed, the sum total of the seven or eight churches classed as the wealthier congregations probably reached that figure. In some instances the gifts were as large as $25,000 from individuals. Grace church received one contribution of that sum which will be used for the training school for deaconesses. Altogether the congregational offering was $55,450, the largest in many years.

St. Andrew's, in Harlem, received $22,000, the largest amount ever offered by that congregation. Like Grace church, the plates received one check for $25,000. Old Trinity is thought to have raised at least $60,000 for the numerous institutions under its patronage.

In Brooklyn heavy offerings were also reported and several churches will be enabled to wipe out their entire indebtedness.

BUILDING SEASON

OVER 100,000 MEN START TO WORK IN NEW YORK UNDER THE NEW ARBITRATION AGREEMENT.

NEW YORK, April 24.—New York's new building season will begin in earnest today, when 100,000 workers in the trades will begin operations under the arbitration agreement signed Saturday by employers and representatives of skilled men, and under which it is provided there shall be neither strikes nor lockouts.

Builders, architects and prospective owners of buildings have work on hand which will last for years to come, strikes and other disturbances during the past few years having delayed operations to such an extent that it will take a long time to catch up. Leaders on both sides express much gratification over the outlook.

BULL FIGHTS

MANY CONTESTS HELD ON SUNDAY IN SPAIN, UNDER SUSPENSION OF THE LAW.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Bull fights were held Sunday in many towns all over Spain for the first time since the law prohibiting their being held on that day was promulgated, says a Herald dispatch from Madrid.

Owing to the popular opposition to the measure and to the protests from toreadors, municipal authorities and others interested, the government suspended the law.

Several serious injuries are reported to have occurred in various rings.

A COLLISION IN SANTIAGO

ONE DEAD AND FIFTY WOUNDED AS RESULT OF A CONFERENCE OVER "THE SIMPLE LIFE."

NEW YORK, April 24.—One dead and fifty wounded is the result of a collision in Santiago between a police detachment and a crowd of workmen, says a Herald dispatch from Valparaiso, Chile. The workmen had been attending an open air conference of a priest, who, while advocating the simple life, denounced "the perversity" of his former bishop.

When they were met by a religious procession after the conference the men attempted to stop it, but the police charged a score of times with unsheathed swords, the workmen answering with a rain of stones.

DEFAULTER OF A MILLION AND HALF

Frank G. Bigelow, President of the First National Bank of Milwaukee, Loses Huge Sum of Bank's Money in Speculation---Directors Make Good.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 24.—Frank G. Bigelow, president of the First National bank of this city, and formerly president of the American Bankers' association, has defaulted the bank's funds to the extent of $1,500,000. The directors of the bank have deposited in the bank a sum sufficient to make the institution perfectly solid. Mr. Bigelow has not yet been arrested.

The capital of the First National bank is $1,500,000 and the surplus is $1,500,000. Mr. Bigelow has signed over property to the bank amounting to $300,000, making his net defalcation about $1,200,000.

Aside from the surplus which will meet the amount of the defalcation, the sum of $1,635,000 has been subscribed by directors to meet any demands which may be made on the bank. The aggregate wealth of the directors who subscribed funds to meet any requirements of the bank approximate over $20,000,000.

The comptroller of the currency has been notified and has been asked to make an immediate examination of the bank. Mr. Bigelow's defalcation became known to the directors of the bank on Saturday night. He admitted today that the amount had been lost in speculation and that he had falsified the books to cover up the defalcation.

Henry F. Goll, assistant cashier of the bank, has been removed charged with having been a party to the falsification of the figures in the bank's books.

The announcement of the defalcation was made by George P. Miller, one of the directors of the bank.

A notice has been issued by the directors announcing that a sum has been subscribed sufficient to protect the depositors. Charles F. Pfister headed the list of directors who subscribed large amounts to meet the deficit. Mr. Pfister's subscription is $400,000.

The statement issued by the directors is as follows:

A Statement.

For value received, we, the undersigned, severally agree to advance and pay to the First National Bank of Milwaukee, Wis., the sums set opposite our respective names, as the same may be needed, for the payment on demand of all deposits now in said bank, or which within thirty days from this date may be placed therein. Our claims hereunder for reimbursement shall be subordinate and postponed to the claims of all depositors and other creditors.

(Signed)

CHARLES F. PFISTER	$ 11,000
FRED VOGEL, JR.	300,000
JOHN I. BEGGS	300,000
E. MARINER	170,000
FRED F. GOLL	50,000
GEORGE P. MILLER	50,000
J. H. VANDYKE, JR.	50,000
J. K. KIPP	50,000
ALBERT G. TROSTEL	25,000
AUGUST H. VOGEL	10,000
WM. BIGELOW	100,000
Total	$1,635,000

Dated Milwaukee, Wis., April 24, 1905.

Mr. Bigelow was in his office at the bank as usual up to noon looking over books and papers. His manner was greatly agitated. Arrangements are being made for the arrest of Mr. Bigelow and probably Mr. Goll this afternoon.

Mr. Bigelow has long occupied a foremost place in the financial transactions of Milwaukee.

Only last year he was president of the American Bankers' association. He is also prominent in Milwaukee's social set.

Up to noon the defalcation was known to only a few and while the news is likely to create consternation among the depositors ample provision has been made to more than meet any emergency.

Too Much Wheat.

An intimate friend of President Bigelow said:

"Wheat speculation has cost the Bigelows their name and the bank a large sum of money. It is a family tragedy as well as a tremendous shock to the financial circles of the city. The father, Frank G. Bigelow, had Chicago speculative connections with the firm of Tracy & Co., in which his son, Gordon Bigelow, was a member.

"In the late Armour-Gates wheat battle and the sharp fluctuations of the market, which have come during the last few days, the Bigelow senior and the Bigelow, junior, were caught and caught for all that the bank directors now represent. Hitherto the family name has been of the highest in the city and the failure will come as a sad shock to all who knew them."

Money From Chicago.

Several of the prominent bankers of Chicago were called to Milwaukee in conference with the directors of the First National bank and promised to lend any assistance that might be needed. Among the visiting bankers in conference were E. A. Hammill of the Corn Exchange National bank; Jas. M. Forgan of the First National bank and Orson Smith, of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company's bank.

A million and a half dollars was received from Chicago at 1 o'clock.

At that hour the news of the defalcation had spread to such an extent as to cause a run on the institution. The crowd which gathered numbered about 200 and blocked the sidewalk in front of the bank.

Those who sought to withdraw their funds, however, are the small depositors and they were paid off as rapidly as they made their demands. There has been no great demonstrations, the depositors acting calmly. Several policemen have been detailed to maintain order.

CHICAGO, April 24.—The Chicago brokerage firm of Macy & Co., of which Gordon Bigelow, son of the president of the First National bank of Milwaukee, was a member, dissolved partnership today.

The announcement made by the firm concerning its dissolution gave no particulars as to the causes leading to such action, stating simply that Mr. Bigelow would no longer be a member.

WAS SWINDLER'S BARGAIN [illegible]

Joseph Adams, a Man of Many Aliases, Was Arrested in Denver for Forgery.

DENVER, April 24.—Clad in ecclesiastical garb, Joseph Adams, alias John B. Wilson, arrested in this city yesterday by Assistant Superintendent Elmer E. Prettyman, of the Pinkerton National Detective association, and City Detective George Sanders, is alleged to have swindled banks in almost every large city in the country. In his role of priest or clergyman, it is said, he secured the confidence of banks and by fake deposits, cleverly forged drafts and checks it is charged he secured hundreds of thousands of dollars from members of the American Bankers' association, which organization is responsible for his arrest.

The man arrested here admits his identity, the police state, and resembles the rogues' gallery pictures to a nicety. He has all the scars and marks of the man wanted, and both the Pinkerton superintendent and Chief of Police Delaney say there can be no mistake.

The Knox-Whiteman Gang.

If the man in jail is Adams, he is a member of the Knox-Whiteman gang of bank swindlers who obtained $222,000 from banks in New York and Boston, alone, within a few months. Adams is a partner of Tom Dugan, alias "Trenton Red," alias Judge, burglar, bank sneak and forger who was implicated in the robbery of a New York subtreasury wagon, in which $30,000 in gold, bars was secured by the highwaymen. Adams, it is alleged, wrote the drafts and was with Dugan when he swindled the People's bank of Boston out of several thousands of dollars. Dugan is now doing from five to seven years in the Massachusetts state prison for this crime.

In the arrest of Adams the American bankers' association detectives, the Pinkertons and the city force have succeeded in completely breaking up the Knox-Whiteman gang. Adams was the last man out of the seven to be taken into custody. All the others are now serving sentences in prisons throughout the country, or are awaiting trial. The most famous crime of this gang was the swindling of the Columbus bank in New York of $22,000.

Adams is known as a most accomplished and intelligent penman and swindler. The latest records of the American Banking association describe him as being a more dangerous criminal than A. E. Bell, the postoffice swindler who is now serving a sentence on the Pacific coast. Adams had been in Denver but a few hours when he was apprehended. He was traced by the Pinkertons from the east, where he escaped after swindling the Boston banks. He went to San Francisco and Los Angeles, where he followed the races and swindled many banks. The coast became too hot for him and he started east, being followed by Pinkerton men.

Man Located in Denver.

Detective Prettyman located him in Denver Saturday night and followed him to the Gray rooming house at 909 Fourteenth street, where he had lodgings. Prettyman shadowed him all Saturday night and was unable to get to a phone until Adams went to breakfast at Burke's restaurant, Fifteenth and Arapahoe streets, yesterday morning. He then called police headquarters and asked for official assistance. Detective George Sanders was sent to meet him, and they followed Adams down Arapahoe street to Fourteenth, where they placed him under arrest. At first, the prisoner was haughty and stated that a great indignity and a great injustice was being done him.

"I am a traveling man," he said.

"Well, you are all through traveling now," said Sanders, and he grasped the man's coat collar.

"Never mind," said Adams. "You've got me and I will go."

BODY AT BAY VIEW

REMAINS OF JOSEPH JEFFERSON WILL BE BURIED AT BUZZARDS BAY CEMETERY.

BUZZARDS BAY, April 24.—It was learned today at "Crows Nest," the home of Joseph Jefferson, that the body of the aged actor would not be brought directly here from Palm Beach.

Arrangements have been made to place the casket in a receiving vault at Boston until such a time as members of the family, who are scattered over the country and abroad, can come together.

The body will then be brought here and will be buried in the Bay View cemetery.

DAVIS [illegible] WINS [illegible] SUIT

Jury in Council Bluffs Returns a Verdict for Defendant After Being Out 74 Hours—A Notable Case.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, April 24.—The jury in the Doyle-Burns case brought in a verdict at 9 o'clock last night in favor of the defendant after being out since Friday noon.

On the twelve special interrogatories the findings of the jury were as follows:

1. No.
2. Yes.
4. No.
7. No.
10. No.

The others, in face of the verdict, needed no answering.

The jury took seventy-four ballots and from the start, contrary to reports, the majority was always for the defendant. At first the majority stood eight to four in favor of Burns and at times went to seven to five and then ten to two. When the jury went to supper last night it stood ten to two in favor of the defendant, and after supper two ballots were taken which stood eleven to one, and then on the third ballot the jury finally agreed on a verdict for Burns by a vote of twelve to nothing.

Mr. Baldwin following the announcement of the verdict, at once stated they would take the case up to the supreme court.

Mr. Doyle was evidently greatly disappointed, and in an interview last night said the verdict was contrary to the evidence.

The Portland mining suit, in which James Doyle is plaintiff and James F. Burns defendant, was an action to prove a partnership in the Bob Tail No. 2, Devil's Own and Tidal Wave claims, located in the Cripple Creek district in 1892.

The properties now belong to the Portland Gold Mining company, stock of that corporation having been issued to Burns in exchange for them.

In the case just decided, Doyle claimed $561,634.14 as the value of his half of the stock with dividends and interest. Burns' line of defense was that he and Doyle were partners in the Portland claim, for which Doyle received his share of stock, and in no others.

The case dates back to February 1, 1898, when a petition was filed in the district court here claiming $620,000. Notice was served on Burns while he was attending the annual stockholders' meeting of the company in Council Bluffs. He was at that time and until February of this year president of the company.

Burns filed a special appearance and motion to quash the notice, objecting to the court's jurisdiction. Judge Smith entered an order overruling the motion and directing the defendant to plead.

Burns refused to come into court, and instead commenced an action against Doyle in Colorado, to enjoin him from proceeding with the suit here, and Judge Lunt granted an injunction.

Doyle came to Council Bluffs, and as Burns had ignored the court's order by failing to plead, Doyle disregarded the Colorado injunction, took a default against Burns, proved up, and was given judgment for $777,025.

Doyle then returned home, was summoned before Judge Lunt, and ordered by him to set aside the judgment in Iowa within three days. This he refused to do, and was sent to jail, where he remained for eight months.

In July, 1899, on motion of Burns' counsel, Judge Thornell ordered the default and judgment set aside, on condition that the defendant dismiss all proceedings in Colorado, set Doyle free, pay all costs in connection with the default proceedings, waive all objections to the Iowa jurisdiction, and try the case on its merits in Council

STEADY DOWNPOUR OF VAST BENEFIT TO COLORADO

DENVER, April 24—The precipitation in this city during the twenty-four hours ending at 6 a. m. today was 2.30 inches. This has been exceeded only four times since 1876. The weather cleared during the forenoon and the snow melted rapidly.

DENVER, April 24—The heaviest downpour of moisture for years over the plains of eastern Colorado which began Saturday night still continues.

The storm extends from the panhandle of Texas to Central Wyoming.

Live stock on the ranges is in good condition and as the temperature is not low there will be little loss.

The benefit to grasses on the open range is incalculable.

Even if the storm is followed by frost as is usual in April in Colorado, the fruit trees are safe, for the cool weather of the past two weeks has kept back the buds from opening.

The industry affected most is sugar beet planting, which was well under way, but which will undoubtedly be delayed until the ground is again dry enough to work.

Little damage so far is reported to railroads.

Trinidad reports a dangerous rise in the river which last fall went on a rampage and washed out all the bridges for miles up and down the stream. Pueblo is looking for a rise in the Arkansas.

The bride's stepfather swore out a warrant charging young Morris with perjury in swearing that he was 21 years of age in order to secure the license.

Accompanied by the bride's mother and two friends the party proceeded to the Roman Catholic church where Father Fraiti tied the nuptial knot. Returning to the house the wedding breakfast was eaten and the happy couple were en route to a photographer's when they were met by an officer of the court who took the young husband into custody. They were met at the court house by the bride's mother who furnished a bond in the sum of $500 for the release of her son in law. Later the perjury case was withdrawn.

DOWIE RECEIVED WITH JOY BY HIS PEOPLE

WAUKEGAN, Ill. April 24. The return of Dowie from his Mexican trip was the occasion for two great gatherings in Shiloh tabernacle, Zion City, yesterday. One service was at 6 30 in the morning, the other at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Dowie's first appearance before his people after his arduous trip south brought forth another important statement from the leader, namely, that he never wanted the job of apostle, but that it was forced upon him by God. At the morning meeting Dowie took occasion to make the announcement that tomorrow he would start a "weeding out" of people who had been losing interest and faith.

RUSSIAN DECREE TO CONFISCATE LAND OWNERS FOR DESTRUCTION BY PEASANTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24—With the object of stopping the destruction of private property which has been going on in the rural districts under the influence of the leaders of the peasant movement an imperial decree was passed today authorizing the minister of the interior M. Bouligan to appoint commissions in the disturbed district to trace the culprits, assess the losses and collect the amount of damages done from the members of the village communities implicated whose whole real and personal property is liable to be sold at auction for this purpose. The decree also orders the granting of state loans to land owners not possessing the means of repairing their losses.

FAMOUS CHURCH CHANGES QUARTERS

ALL SOULS' IN NEW YORK MOVES INTO A MORE COMMODIOUS PLACE OF WORSHIP

NEW YORK, April 24. All Souls church, Madison avenue and Sixty-sixth street, made famous by the Rev. Heber Newton, has passed into history as a place of worship. A great throng was present at the closing service and many old members of the congregation were moved to tears during the services.

Today the church of the Archangel St. Nicholas avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth street will be informally rechristened All Souls church. The pews and fine organ used in the latter will be transferred to the new house.

The church and parish of All Souls were established in 1859. During the last three years of his ministry, which terminated three years ago, Dr. Newton was in poor health and the congregation fell away. Of late the congregation increased materially but the vestrymen and church wardens concluded that it would be better to sell the property which brought $330,000. The house to which the congregation has removed is said to have had its actual foundation in a fund started by a street car conductor who contributed $2.

DIME NOVEL STORY FOUND IN REAL LIFE

The Tale of a Veteran Bookmaker Who Lost Pocketbook ... Years Ago

NEW YORK, April 24. To lose $7,600 in a pocketbook in a railroad train and then after 17 years to receive a letter from the finder accusing him by implication of teaching a humble person bad habits, all of which was preliminary to an offer to return the empty pocketbook for several dollars, is the experience of Henry Stedeker, veteran bookmaker of the Metropolitan Turf association. The climax came only today and Mr. Stedeker does not know whether to be more hurt than when he lost the money or ... He ... the entire affair as an example of the most monumental "nerve," as he describes it, in history.

Mr. Stedeker has been a bookmaker in the big ring for many years plying that vocation in the days of Jerome Park and there the first act of the comedy ... staged, ... as he explained it tonight.

"I was on my way to the track one day in the fall meeting at Jerome Park in 1888 ... in my inside pocket a leather pocketbook which contained $..., $126 and $500 bills which I had intended to put in the bank but could not because I had to run to catch the train.

Soon after I seated myself in the car a man ... and I took out the book to ... the bills. At that moment a friend ... the aisle called my attention to the death of a friend and handed me a newspaper containing the information. I took the paper and in ... the pocketbook in my lap. I was reading the account of the death when ... reached the track ... in the hurry and excitement forgot the book, jumped up and ... to the ...

That was the last I ever heard of it until today when I received this letter, although the police and detectives worked on the case and I offered a reward of half the total sum for its return."

Mr. Stedeker at this point ... a letter on cheap cream-colored note paper ornamented with flowers and figures. The writer was evidently unfamiliar with English spelling as well as grammar. It was as ...

"Mr. Stedeker: Manny years ago I find me a pocketbook going to the Jerome park races. If it was a pore man who lost it I think I would have returned it but when I thought of your business the amount so great to me was perhaps only a days business with you I said to myself I will keep it. I have often thought in late years whether it would not have been better for us both if I had not found it as I cultivated tastes I can not satisfie now. I write to you to say I have kept your pockerbook as when I found it and if you think it any value to you I willingly send it too you for a few dollars as I am pennyless. Yours trully

KARL WIDHASSETS.

"General postoffice New York city."

"Of course I have got over grieving for the loss of that money," continued Mr. Stedeker, "but when that fellow blames me indirectly for teaching him bad habits by losing the money I think it is carrying things too far. I hope though he did acquire a taste for champagne and high life. It would only serve him right. But if he will bring that pocketbook back to me I will give a couple of dollars for it just as a souvenir. I won't have him arrested."

FALSE TEETH IN SCULPTOR'S THROAT

NEW YORK, April 24—Charles H. Niehaus, the sculptor, is slowly recovering at the Polyclinic hospital from the effects of a singular accident. That he is alive and on the high road to recovery is due to a rare and masterly operation.

Six weeks ago Mr. Niehaus swallowed two false teeth and the wide rubber plate to which they were attached.

Mr. Niehaus reached New York more dead than alive and on Sunday was taken to the Polyclinic hospital. That afternoon Dr. John A. Wyeth performed an operation, successfully removing the false teeth that were embedded in the esophagus far down behind the breast bone.

Mr. Niehaus, who has a studio in West Thirty-sixth street and a ... residence near White Plains, went out to Indianapolis two months ago to complete arrangements for the statue of former President Benjamin Harrison. Then he went to Cincinnati, his native city, where at a little social party some one cracked a joke which came so near costing the sculptor's life.

Amid the laughter Mr. Niehaus was seen bending forward, gasping for breath and clutching his throat. For years he had worn two false front teeth ... rubber plate that, crescent shaped, followed the curve of the upper jaw and covered half of the mouth roof. This usually held in place by suction, had slipped far down the throat.

It was feared that he would choke to death. ... nourishment Mr. Niehaus was reduced to a pitiable state. His flesh virtually melted away and he could barely totter about his room.

DEATH COMES TO GIPSY RULER

OAKLAND, Cal. April 24. After a life of eighty years spent in roaming over two continents, Isaiah Roswell, king of the gypsy tribe bearing his name, died at his camp in this city, which for ... years has been the headquarters in the United States of the Roswells.

CRIPPLE CREEK DIVIDENDS.

TODAY the Vindicator dividend of $33,000 and the Gold Sovereign dividend of $9,500 will be paid. Yesterday the Elkton distributed $12,500 to its stockholders, and only a few days ago the El Paso disbursed $49,000 in the same way. These, with the ten cent dividend aggregating $300,000 declared by the Portland a short time ago, make a total of $404,000 in dividends paid by Cripple Creek mining properties in the last thirty days, and several others will be paid during the coming month.

Cripple Creek today is not only producing more gold, but is paying more money in actual, legitimate dividends than any other mining camp in the country. The mining industry of the district is run on a substantial business basis. This is a fact which investors would do well to keep in mind when tempted to put money in the wildcat shares of some "hole in the ground owned by a liar," and located in some out-of-the-way place which nobody knows anything of except from hearsay.

There is plenty of water in the Cripple Creek district, but it is the real, tangible kind that flows out of the drainage tunnels. It is not in the stocks, for the rigid rules long ago adopted by the Mining Stock Association of this city squeezed the water out of shares and made it impossible for irresponsible promoters to do business on the board. Every stock listed on the local Exchange has been subjected to a searching investigation, and the careful methods of supervision insure that the properties represented are worthy of the [illegible] claimed for them.

There is a great deal of street talk about the fabulous riches to be made by investments in Goldfield [illegible]. No doubt, some very rich ore has been found in Goldfield, and the camp has a promising future, but [illegible] other new and distant mining camps, it is hardly a safe thing for the average investor to put his money there unless he [illegible] knows what he is buying and how good his chances of making a profit may be. Reliable information of this [illegible] is not easy to obtain. But the [illegible] of the Cripple Creek district is known to all, and every buyer of stock there "goes in with his eyes open." He may lose, but at least he will have the satisfaction of knowing that he loses on a clear-cut business proposition, and not on a wildcat scheme.

DISTRIBUTION OF IMMIGRANTS.

COMMISSIONER OF IMMIGRATION SARGENT is working hard to divert the tide of foreign immigration from the cities to the country, and if he is successful one of the worst phases of the problem will be solved. The aliens of whatever nationality except the English and Irish—come to our shores ignorant of the English language, so their first impulse is to huddle together in colonies in the big cities. This is good neither for them nor for the country, for it encourages crime and retards the process of assimilation into the population.

In many Western states, but more particularly in the South, there is a strong demand for foreign blood. The Southern planters are anxious to secure Italians to work in the cotton fields, many of them regarding this as the only solution of the labor question there. So it happens that while New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other Atlantic coast cities, as well as Chicago and St. Louis, are trying to keep the alien from their borders, the South wants him badly but can't get him.

The difficulty lies largely in the fact that the immigrants know nothing of conditions in the rural districts. They must first be taught where their labor is most in demand and what they may expect in the way of wages, conditions of employment, etc. Mr. Sargent proposes to compile a manual of information, containing descriptions of these states, their climate, resources, industries, cost of living, wages paid, cost of land and other matters of interest to immigrants. This manual would be printed in several languages and distributed free to the homeseekers when they sailed from their native land, in order that they might have the chance to study it on the way over.

Another plan suggested is to divert the stream of immigration from New York to New Orleans. This might or might not be practicable, but it is a case of anything to keep the aliens from herding together in the big cities. Conditions are bad enough at best and it is high time for Congress to revise the laws so as to materially change the present system.

NEW YORK'S CHURCH POPULATION.

SOME surprising figures relating to the religious division of the population of New York city are published by The Federation, a periodical issued by the New York Federation of Churches. This organization has a reputation for accuracy in the gathering of its statistics, so they may be considered fairly reliable.

Estimating the population of New York last year as 3,945,907. The Federation distributes this population, as to religion, as follows:

		Per cent.
Roman Catholic	1,2[illegible]	32.5
Russian Orthodox	1,500
Greek Orthodox	1,500
Armenian Apostolic	900
Jewish	725,000	18.4
Protestant Communicants	321,6[illegible]	[illegible]
Additional Protestant Attendants	497,547	[illegible]
[illegible] Protestants	[illegible]	[illegible]
	3,945,907	100.0

There are 931 Protestant churches in New York with a total constituency, as above shown, of an average of 878 persons to a church. But the number of "church-less" Protestants is given as 1,087,762, or 258,517 more than the whole number affiliated with the churches. The Protestant churchgoers constitute about one-fifth the population of the city, while the Protestant non-churchgoers number more than one-fourth.

It may be a surprise to many people to see the large proportion of Roman Catholics and Jews in New York. The Jews are increasing rapidly, the total present population of that race in the metropolis being estimated at 750,000, or 25,000 more than the number last year. More than one-fourth of the population of Manhattan is composed of Jews—a statement which suggests the wonderful possibilities of the race if it ever chose to go into politics, or to act together on any important question.

The Federation prints another table showing the percentages of Protestant communicants and Roman Catholic parishioners in the population of the five boroughs:

	Protestant. 1904.	Protestant. 1905.	Roman Catholic. 1904.	Roman Catholic. 1905.
Manhattan	7.45	7.44	27.07	26.85
Brooklyn	10.13	10.50	27.06	26.89
Bronx	5.48	5.52	16.39	15.76
Queens	9.24	10.10	23.51	24.44
Richmond	12.48	11.97	21.03	20.42
	8.40	8.58	26.04	25.85

It is evident from this that the Protestant population of New York is not increasing as fast as its Catholic population. The Federation explains this by saying that Protestantism "can not come at its own people for the crowd that hides them." But this is not sufficient explanation. New York has an enormous foreign population which is recruited each year with thousands of immigrants from Southern Europe and mostly from the Catholic countries. These, with their children, form the mainstay of the Catholic church in New York. As proof of this The Sun cites the fact that in the foreign parts of the city where the density of population is more than 131 persons to the acre, less than 6 per cent of the people are Protestants, while in the districts of less density the percentage is 13. But whatever the explanation, the figures are instructive and highly interesting.

A Denver paper prints a full-page picture by "our special artist" showing the President "at the campfire" smoking a cob pipe. Of course the fact that the President never smokes makes no difference. He must have been holding the pipe in his mouth anyway, for sketch artists on the spot never make mistakes.

The Chicago University professor who thinks the Rocky Mountains are "useless" is too hasty in his judgment. He should buy one and have it set down in his back yard, just to find out how useful it would be for exercising purposes.

It is to be hoped that in his search for small colleges willing to accept cash contributions, Andrew Carnegie will not overlook Colorado College. It is quite as deserving as any, and it needs the money more than most of them.

After having been leader of the "commonweal" army, and then a Texas oil magnate, "General" Jacob S. Coxey is now taking refuge in the bankruptcy court. Verily, this is the land of opportunity—both to get rich and to get poor.

A Topeka paper offers a prize to the person who will send it the biggest falsehood. It ought to be an even break between the town lot boomers and the men who make out the Standard Oil reports.

Young Mr. Hyde seems to think that because his daddy founded the Equitable he has the perpetual right to use it as a plaything, the 600,000 policy-holders to the contrary notwithstanding.

H. H. Rogers wants to know why "so many foolish people go into the ministry." Nobody knows, but why is Mr. Rogers trying to show himself more foolish than any of the ministers?

In a letter from Monte Carlo to the Louisville Courier-Journal, Colonel Watterson says that "all gambling is low and vulgar." Gracious! How much did the Colonel lose?

Miss Tarbell advises Kansas to "quit sizzling." Can the leopard change his spots?

THE DATE OF EASTER.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

Easter Sunday invariably occurs on the first Sunday after the first Friday after the first full moon after the Vernal Equinox. Good Friday must always intervene between the first full moon after the Vernal Equinox and Easter Sunday. I am inclined to doubt the statement made by the Public Library Quarterly that Easter may occur as early as March 22, as there could be no intervention of Good Friday. Should the full moon and Good Friday both occur on March 21, March is the earliest possible date upon which Easter Sunday could occur. Since Pope Gregory XIII gave to Christendom his perfect adjustment of actual with computed time, Easter Sunday can always be definitely designated by the above rule without the necessity of understanding the difference between the ecclesiastical and astronomical full moon.

ASA CURL.

THE BILLIARD AND POOL HALLS.

To the Editor of the Gazette.

You have in the past few months, by your editorials and otherwise, tried to bring billiard and pool halls into disrepute. I want to say to the public through your columns that the billiard and pool halls, if conducted as we do ours (to-wit, the Exchange Billiard Hall), are absolutely moral. How anyone can learn vice or crime in such a place as ours I can't see. We violate no ordinance or statute law. Our place is conducted so that any lady or gentleman can visit and be treated as nicely as any other business house in the city. You say in your editorial today that the billiard halls thrive on boys in their teens. I wish to say that so far as we are concerned this is not correct. If others don't do right, single them out and let the public know who is violating the law, and do not condemn the whole—it is injustice to a legitimate business. Young people will have amusement. If they can't find innocent amusement they will go to Colorado City or somewhere, where there are saloons, gambling resorts and houses of prostitution, and spend their money and time. Billiards and pool are games of skill, just the same as tenpins, cricket, golf, croquet, football or baseball. All there is to it, the loser pays for the game. I wish that our business was better understood by the general public. It has nothing in common with saloons, clubs, or gamblers of any kind whatsoever. We would be glad if the ministers of the various churches would call on us at our place of business and investigate for themselves, and not take hearsay evidence.

A bill providing for a tax on cats is pending in the Massachusetts legislature. Presumably it has the indorsement of [illegible] sparrows and [illegible] dogs. There is where consultation with the cats will be required. There are agile tax-dodgers in all states, and, no doubt, there are cats nimble and crafty enough to profit by these unholy examples.—Washington Star.

How Titles Are Sold

Methods of Acquiring Nobiliary Honors in the Old World

AS the letter addressed by M. A. Enoch of No. 104 Rue Nationale, Cholet, Maine et Loire, France, to the editor of "The Evening Post" of New York, invoking the assistance of that paper in the sale in America of a bona fide title of duke, which he describes as a "titre nobiliaire," might lead to misconception, it may be just as well to point out that there is no such thing in Europe as a "titre nobiliaire," that is to say, a title of nobility which can be transferred by its owner to a stranger by sale, as an ordinary piece of property. It is all the more necessary to point out this since "The Evening Post," in its editorial comments on this letter, though indulging in banter at the expense of the writer, does not cast any doubt upon the bona fide character of the transaction proposed, or upon the ability of M. Enoch to make good his offer.

It may therefore be well to state clearly that there is today only one government in the world which sells titles of nobility, namely, the tiny 1000-year old republic of San Marino, which employs the money thus obtained in maintaining the finest hospital, foundling asylum and home for the disabled and aged in all Italy, the principle of this government being that human vanity should pay for the relief of human suffering. But these titles which range from dukedoms down to hereditary knighthoods, are sold only by the government, and, once acquired, cannot be redisposed of by their purchaser.

Papal Dukedoms.

From the Vatican it is possible to obtain titles of duke, prince, marquis, count and baron in return for the payment of large fees, ranging from $3,000 to $20,000, providing the candidate for the nobiliary honors is strongly recommended for them by his diocesan and by the principal ecclesiastical authorities of his native land. The rule which requires that a candidate for nobiliary honors from the Vatican shall be a man of unblemished character and distinguished for his works of charity and for his generosity to the church and to the poor is pretty generally observed.

There is one American citizen who has a papal title of duke, namely, Joseph Loubat, of New York and Paris. There are several American papal marquises, no princes, but quite a large number of counts. I may add that these papal titles cannot be transferred by their owners to any third party by either gift or sale. Some of them are non-hereditary and become extinct with the death of their holders. Those that are not hereditary descend only in the male line direct, and not through women—cannot, therefore, be alienated from the family of the original grantee.

Spanish Honors by Marriage.

In Spain titles of duke, marquis, count and baron can be acquired, not by purchase, but through marrying the heiress of some title. In Spain honors of this kind descend through the women. If, for instance, a duke dies, leaving no sons, but a daughter, it is not his younger brother who inherits the dukedom, but his daughter. She becomes a duchess in her own right, and when she marries her husband, no matter whether a Spaniard or a foreigner, becomes ipso facto a duke, taking her dead father's title. In this way several Americans have acquired Spanish marquisates and titles of count. There are no princes in Spain.

The sovereign of any monarchical country is apt to reward acts of munificent philanthropy by means of titles. Thus, the emperor of Austria conferred the rank of baron, not only upon the late M. de Hirsch, but also upon his two heirs, the young de Forests (in spite of their illegitimate birth), in recognition of the immense sums devoted by the great Jewish financier to the relief of his fellow creatures in Austria-Hungary and abroad. Numerous other instances could be quoted, not alone on the continent, but also in England, in which philanthropy has been thus rewarded. Indeed, in one of the last list of honors published on the occasion of King Edward's birthday last year, it was intimated in almost every case that the baronetcy or the knighthood conferred was a recognition by the crown of good works.

Only One Castle Confers a Title.

As I have pointed out in these letters more than once, there is only one castle and estate in all Europe the ownership of which carries with it a nobiliary title, namely, the ancient castle of Arundel, which, dating in part from the reign of Alfred the Great, is today owned by England's premier peer, the Duke of Norfolk. As proprietor of the castle in question, the duke is Earl of Arundel, and were he to obtain the consent of his heirs to the breaking of the entail, and to sell Arundel castle, say to William Waldorf Astor, then the latter, by means of its acquisition, would become ipso facto Earl of Arundel, with a seat as such in the House of Lords. But this is the only case of its kind in Europe, and it is unique, the assertions to the effect that the French chateau of Valencay carries with it the title of duke being preposterous and unfounded.

French Nobiliary Dignities.

With regard to French titles, not only can they not be alienated by adoption or by sale, but they cannot even be transmitted through the female line except by a special act of grace on the part of the crown, which, as we all know, has ceased to exist since 1870, that is to say, since thirty-five years ago. The old laws enacted during the reigns of the first Napoleon, of Louis XVIII, Charles X and Louis Philippe, and reaffirmed and amended by the government of the Third Empire, still remain in existence and restrict the inheritance of nobiliary titles to primogeniture—that is to say, to the male line direct, prohibiting and rendering it a misdemeanor for anyone to assume a nobiliary title to which he is not entitled by birth, [illegible] if granted by a foreign monarch expressly authorized and sanctioned by the French government.

A Frenchman can, if he has no heirs of his blood, adopt a stranger and bequeath to him his name, but he cannot bequeath to him any nobiliary title which he possesses. The laws on the subject, however, are more honored in the breach than in the observance and there are a number of instances in which titles have been unlawfully assumed on the strength of adoption and are illegally borne by men who have no ties of blood with the legitimate owner thereof, a case in point being that of a man known as Saint Maurice, who, on being adopted by the last authentic Marquis of Montcalm, assumed his name during the latter's lifetime, and after his death the title of marquis in conjunction therewith.

There are several French dukes today who are childless and without any heirs, notably the Duc de Tarente, grandson of Napoleon's famous Marshal Macdonald, who a few years ago has divorced from an elderly lady who practically controls the omnibus monopoly in Paris. He is not in affluent circumstances, and, having no brothers or paternal uncles—that is to say, brothers of his father—being, in fact, the only male Macdonald of the celebrated marshal's family, he has a perfect right to legally adopt any man whom he chooses, and to bequeath to him the name of Macdonald, which his adopted son would then be legally entitled to use. He cannot, however, by any manner of means bequeath or transfer through adoption or in any other way his title of duke of Tarente and anyone who is foolish enough to pay money for acquisition of a French dukedom, either through getting adopted or through a mere transfer, will be buying a gold brick. Contrary to general belief, no French law is in existence abolishing nobiliary titles. Laws of that kind only exist in Greece, Servia and Rumania, where nobiliary titles are forbidden by law under diverse pains and penalties.—New York Tribune.

A REAL AMERICAN PRINCESS.

General Pleasant Porter's Daughter Is Studying Music in New York.

Miss Mamie A. Porter of Muskogee, I. T., who has lived in this city for the last six months, has perhaps more claim to the title of a "real American girl" than any other educated and accomplished young woman in this country. Her mother was the daughter of a Cherokee chieftain, with an ancestry that was American before white men came here, and she claims to be an American princess, by right of birth. Her father, General Pleasant Porter, had an English father and a Creek Indian mother.

Tall and graceful as a Gibson girl this real American woman shows little trace of her Indian origin, except that her luxuriant hair is jet black and her complexion of a dark tint. She speaks the English language to perfection. She received her early education in the Indian schools at Muskogee, and graduated from Belmont college, Nashville, Tenn. For the last six months, chaperoned by Miss S. E. Drane of Nashville, she has been at No. 30 West Twenty-fifth street, studying vocal music with New York tutors. She has a magnificent high soprano voice, and has received many offers to go upon the stage.

"I am very much interested in Indian music," said Miss Porter. "I have studied the talk love and the music of my race, which is so rapidly dying out, and it seems sad that [illegible] and its pathos must soon be lost to the world. If I am able I would like to prevent Indian music from becoming extinct.

"I think it would be best for the few of our women who have reached refinement and civilization to marry white men, for the Indian girl lives only for the one she loves. If she loves an uncultured Indian, for him she becomes a squaw. If, as my mother did, she marries a white man, the children save the Indian race from absolute extinction, and are fit to take their place in the best American society."—New York World.

The Leland Stanford, Jr., University has the greatest endowment of them all. Its productive funds amount to $20,000,000 par value. Girard college comes next, with $17,718,000; then Harvard, with $16,756,000, and Columbia with $15,847,000. All others are in seven figures instead of eight. And the Stanford endowment is the gift of a single individual or estate, instead of an accumulation of gifts, as in the cases of the other colleges and universities, excepting only Girard.

GRAND CAVERNS LITIGATION ENDED AFTER TWENTY YEARS

Plaintiffs Get $10,000 and Parties to Suit Declared to Own Half Interest in Grand Caverns and Cave of the Winds at Manitou.

Litigation over the ownership of the Grand Caverns and the Cave of the Winds at Manitou, which has been in the courts of the state in one form or another for the last twenty years, has been settled. The basis of settlement is the payment of $10,000 in cash to the Austins and each side retains a one-half interest in both properties.

The litigation was started in the district court of El Paso county in July, 1885, when a case entitled Charles Rinehart vs. George W. Snider was filed to determine the ownership of the valuable property. The case was numbered [illegible] and Judge McNeal was counsel for the plaintiffs and Judge Gunnell for the defendants. Since that time numerous other suits have been instituted and many of them have been carried into the higher courts of the state.

The original plaintiff and defendant have long since died and the heirs have succeeded to the property as well as to the litigation, Emma E. Austin being the successor of Chas. Rinehart and the Snider estate succeeding to the property of Geo. W. Snider.

The cases in the local courts were dismissed Saturday while the final orders for the dismissal of the cases in the higher courts were entered yesterday. Under the stipulation the Snider estate will pay to the Austins $10,000 in cash and the courts will decree that both sides are equal owners in the properties known as the Cave of the Winds and Grand Caverns.

It is considered probable that a company will be organized to facilitate the handling of the immense property, and the various heirs of the two estates will receive stock for their interests. Many improvements will be made in the property now that it is released from litigation, and the whole interior will be lighted with electricity before the opening of the tourist season.

COLLEGE ENTERTAINS MANY VISITORS NEXT SATURDAY

Colorado College will entertain more than 600 visitors next Saturday.

Word has been received by those in charge of the first annual southern interscholastic track and field meet, to be held on Saturday under the auspices of the college, that special trains will be run to this city from Canon City and Pueblo, bringing in the neighborhood of 300 pupils from the public schools of those places. With the addition of the scores of educators from all parts of the west who will be here attending the Colorado college scientific conference, the local institution will have more visitors to entertain than ever before in its history.

Several special committees for the entertainment of the visitors have been appointed. The faculty committee consists of Prof. Ahbaut, chairman; Miss [illegible], Mr. [illegible], Prof. Parsons and President Slocum. Two students committees have also been appointed, one consisting of members of the Campus association and another consisting of the heads of the several literary and debating societies, the fraternities, the Christian associations, the presidents of the college classes and the presidents of the two upper classes of the academy.

Arrangements have been made to throw open all of the college buildings for the inspection of the visitors between the hours of 10.30 and 12.30 and 1.30 and 2.30 o'clock.

The track and field meet is scheduled to begin at 2.30 and at 4.30 o'clock there will be a general reception at Ticknor hall. At the conclusion there will be a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Wm. F. Slocum lasting until 6 o'clock. The oratorical contest will be held at Perkins hall at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

A. O. U. W. AND DEGREE OF HONOR MEET HERE MAY 9

The state biennial conventions of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the grand lodge of the Degree of Honor, of Colorado, will be held jointly in this city on May 9, 10 and 11. The two meetings will bring in the neighborhood of 250 delegates from all parts of the state, including S. S. Abbott and Charles N. Miller of Denver, grand master and recorder, respectively, of the United Workmen, and Mrs. Olive M. Bacon, of Aspen, and Mrs. Carrie Reymann, of Pueblo, chief of honor and grand recorder, respectively, of the Degree of Honor.

A committee consisting of R. B. Taylor, Vincent King and A. L. Lusk, of Badito lodge No. 25, A. O. U. W., of this city, has been appointed to arrange for the entertainment of the guests. The committee is planning some form of amusement for the visitors in the way of a ball or a banquet, the latter being most favored.

In addition to the biennial election of officers, both branches of the order will probably consider proposed changes in their by-laws, though no radical departures from the present laws are anticipated. The meetings of the Ancient Order of United Workmen will be held in Odd Fellows hall on North Tejon street and the meetings of the Degree of Honor will be held in Majestic hall on Bijou street.

RAN AWAY FROM INSANE ASYLUM

MICHAEL RYAN, MANITOU HERMIT, ESCAPED FROM MINNESOTA ASYLUM IN 1896 —TRIAL TODAY.

Michael Ryan, the hermit of Manitou, will be taken into the county court at 10 o'clock this morning for investigation as to his sanity, the complaint being filed by Dr. H. L. Richardson, the county physician.

Since the arrest of Ryan Saturday Under Sheriff Dayton has been investigating the man, and has ascertained that Ryan was committed to the Minnesota Insane asylum at Rochester, Minn., while he was a resident of St. Paul. He escaped from the institution on December 18, 1896, and the authorities of that state failing to receive any further trace of the man entered his discharge upon their records on May 5, 1897, in order to clear their records. Inasmuch as Ryan has been a resident of this state for over a year he has now become a citizen and Colorado will have to care for him at Pueblo if the jury today finds him to be of unsound mind.

The deeper they go the richer they become. Work can be carried on now to a depth of 2,500 feet. El Paso	48,000
Vindicator	25,000

SURFACE WATER PLAYING HAVOC

IMMENSE VOLUME FROM RAINS AND MELTING SNOW IS INTERFERING WITH MINING OPERATIONS.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 24.—Never before in the history of the district has surface water played such havoc with the operators as right now and there is no prospect of any let-up for some weeks to come, as the ground is thoroughly saturated.

In years gone by, surface water has done considerable damage in the way of closing properties down but it has never been quite as bad as now. Much snow yet remains on the ground to melt and a great part of it will find its way into various workings around the district.

The lessees on the Abe Lincoln are having a hard time and are bulk heading to turn the great flow into the Lillie where it will have a chance to seep away. Surface water will cause a considerable decrease in tonnage for this month.

This train proves a great boon to business men of Colorado, who, when they start for New York, want to get there as quickly as possible, time being the most important feature of their trip.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES from Chicago are the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central and from St. Louis, The Big Four.

A REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE.

Stephen Troutman nearly lost his life yesterday from fright, which threw him into an unconscious condition from which he only recovered this morning. It was not until nearly midnight that his pulse became perceptible and three physicians worked over him all night long.

The cause of his fright was quite peculiar. Early in the forenoon yesterday Oscar Slay and Timothy Quare went to the sandpit near the Bradley corners to get some sand. They had with them a basket and some tools, but had scarcely commenced work when the bank caved in, burying Quare to the neck. The tools were all buried also, and it was impossible for Clay to do anything towards digging Quare out. Afraid that a drove of pigs that were roaming about the place might injure Quare, Clay put the basket over Quare's head, weighed it with a stone, and, jumping into the wagon, drove off down the road to the north at full speed for help. Scarcely was he out of sight when Troutman and his wife came driving by from the east, and, seeing the basket, Troutman got out of the wagon to get it. Quare had fainted by this time, and when Troutman lifted the basket and saw beneath only the head and ghastly face of Quare, he gave a frightful cry and fell down in a swoon. His shout frightened the horses, and they ran off down the west road three miles before they stopped, carrying Mrs. Troutman with them away from the scene of her husband's troubles. The rescue party brought by Clay found that they had two helpless men on their hands instead of one. When they had dug Quare out they took them down the north road a mile to a place where they could be cared for, and when Mrs. Troutman came back for her husband everybody was gone, and it was not till late in the afternoon that she found out where Mr. Troutman was. Both patients are now doing well.—Le Seur (Minn.) Cor. St. Paul Despatch.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of childbirth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW

WHAT AILS YOU

the U. S. ... will ... advice for only the cost of writing materials and stamps.

Many people owe their present good health to the fact that they consulted Dr. Pierce, by letter, giving him all possible information about their condition, symptoms, etc., and received in return good medical advice which cost them nothing. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce by no means confines himself to prescribing his well-known medicines. He tells you in the most common-sense way what ails you, what you ought to do, what line of treatment should be followed out in your particular case, and if your case does not indicate the need for this proprietary medicine, he tells you plainly and frankly what you do need, and the best possible method of improving your health.

Dr. Pierce treats many chronic cases at a distance, through the mail and all you have to do is to write him your symptoms.

"During my two years of married life I have not had good health," writes Mrs. Daisy Stoddard, of 608 S. Esplanade Avenue, Leavenworth, Kans. "I was all run-down, and my husband got me to write to Dr. Pierce. I got an early reply telling me what the trouble was. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and now can say that I feel like a new woman. I do all my work and do not feel tired out like I used to. I have taken eight bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription.' It makes one feel well and strong."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.

AMUSEMENTS

WHITE WHITTLESEY AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

White Whittlesey, the new Belasco star, who was seen here last year in the superb performance of "Heartsease," returns to the opera house this evening, when he will be presented by his managers in the famous English military comedy drama, "The Second in Command," which the young star has played to crowded houses during the past week in Denver.

In "The Second in Command," Whittlesey has a role that fits him like a glove. The part has only been played in the United States by John Drew and when the author was asked to allow the play to be disposed of, after Drew's season, he replied that he desired to see the actor who would be assigned the role of the "good natured duffer." Many actors were suggested for the character but none met with the approval of Captain Marshall. Two years ago, Captain Marshall saw White Whittlesey in Boston while the actor was playing the leading roles with Henrietta Crosman. He at once said here is the man to play the part of Kit." The result was that Belasco, Mayer and Price at once secured "The Second in Command" for Whittlesey and held it for two years, until the present starting season. "The Second in Command" is a delightful story of love among the officers of the British army. "Kit, the duffer," a good natured, brave and honorable gentleman is constantly being bantered on his ill-luck. No matter what he does, fortune does not seem to favor him. The result is that when he falls in love, he finds that the woman he adores is beloved by his superior officer and that the girl herself loves his colonel. "Kit," rather than make a girl his wife who does not love him, nobly gives up the woman of his choice, who has been ready to marry him. He paves the way for his sweetheart to marry his colonel, though he does so with a broken heart. But he has his reward. The "duffer," whom everyone thought could never amount to anything, distinguishes himself on the battlefield. He rescues the colonel from an ambuscade of the Boers in South Africa, at the risk of his own life. Sorely wounded, he is sent home to England. The whole country rings with his fame. He has become the hero of the war. His queen congratulates him and a member of the royal family is sent to pin on the breast of the "duffer" that coveted distinction, "The Victoria Cross," only given for bravery on the battlefield. But while "Kit, the duffer," is hailed as a brave soldier, in his love affairs, he is but "The Second in Command."

THE VIRGINIAN.

Seats and boxes may be reserved at the box office of the Opera house this morning for the engagement of "The Virginian," which is to be seen here next Wednesday evening. This play is a dramatization by Owen Wister and Kirke La Shelle of Mr. Wister's novel of the same name. In the sixteen months since the book was published nearly ...,000 copies of it have been sold, and the book reviewers have ascribed this marvelous popularity to the unique charm of the love story of the cow-boy hero and the little school-teacher from Vermont. It is said that this romance, with all of its beauty has been successfully transferred from the book into the stage version which has enjoyed a run of five months at the Manhattan theater, New York city. It is a dramatization of Owen Wister's widely read story of the same name, and the popularity of Mr. Wister's novel has been so great that there seems little doubt of the welcome which its stage version will receive here. The authors of the dramatization have preserved all the charm and beauty of the unique romance between the cow-boy hero and the Vermont school teacher. It is said there can be no question as to the pleasing qualities of the play. The lovers are to be impersonated by Dustin Farnum and Helen Holmes. The principals of the New York cast will all appear during the engagement here.

FLORENCE ROBERTS.

Although the coming week will be a ... week in theatrical affairs in Colorado Springs undoubtedly the most brilliant event will be the appearance at the opera house next Thursday of the gifted actress Florence Roberts supported by Melbourne MacDowell and a strong company in her latest success "Marta of the Lowlands," a romantic drama, translated from the original Spanish of Angel Guimera. It is a strong story of primitive folk, feudal ways, straightforward methods, hot blood and fierce passions told so well that the very atmosphere seems Spanish and the theater rings with the vibrant music of a suffering woman's voice.

The story is of the simplest. The "Master," so called in the play, is a Spanish lord of all but title. He has ruined a poor girl, whom he loves but is about to marry for money. In order to keep the girl near him he brings about her marriage to a shepherd. The girl at first despises her husband, then loves him. The husband, learning something of the truth, first, longs to kill his wife, then, learning more, takes her to his heart, having loved her from the first. Then learning all, he tries to kill the "Master" and in the last act does kill him with his bare hands. Then he and Marta go to his home on the mountain peak far from the wicked influences of the lowlands. It is a most interesting story, beautifully told and full of dramatic power. The scenes are all laid in Spain and give scope for some beautiful effects. Miss Roberts appears as Marta; Mr. McDowell as the shepherd and Mr. Lucius Henderson as the "Master."

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE

PRICES ARE FLUCTUATING

LONDON, April 23.—Business on the stock exchange last week was interrupted by the holidays and the uncertainty of events in the far east. Otherwise the market was cheerful and steady. Money was more plentiful than had been expected and with returns from the country after the holidays and increasing bank reserve there is renewed talk of a reduction of the bank rate in the near future. The feature of the quiet week was activity and erratic movement of Americans under Wall Street's influences, Northern Securities fluctuating vigorously, but generally prices were not materially altered during the week.

ALTARS OF CHURCHES BANKED WITH LILIES FOR EASTER

Although the windows of heaven were opened and the rain fell incessantly all day yesterday Eastertide was observed widely and impressively by the church going public of Colorado Springs.

At every church the morning services which were those especially devoted to the Easter services, the congregations were large and in many instances completely filled the church building. With a few exceptions the evening services were also largely attended.

Paeans of Praise.

From every pulpit the old but ever new story of the resurrection of the Saviour was told over again. Joyful voices united in paeans of praise and the anthems were sung in every sanctuary, large or small. The beautiful Easter music was a feature of the day's services and in many of the sacred edifices elaborate programs added to the impressiveness of the day.

Beautiful and artistic with their hundreds of white Easter lilies and other flowers set in banks of palms and along altar rails twined with ivy and kinnikinnick were the decorations in the churches in Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou.

At St. Mary's.

At St. Mary's church, the services were especially impressive. At each of the three masses, the large church was crowded to accommodate the worshipers. The Easter decorations were exceptionally beautiful. Lambillotte's Pascal Mass with orchestral accompaniment was given with artistic finish. The organ was handled consistently by Mr. Heyman, the rendition of the soprano parts by Mrs. W. H. Metz, and the ensemble work of the chorus was faultless.

The observance of the Easter at St. Stephen's Episcopal church was especially impressive and the services were most beautiful. The music by the choir was a splendid feature and the floral decorations were simple, but artistic.

Elks at Grace Church.

At Grace Episcopal church, the music was also a feature. The decorations were elaborate, the chancel being banked with Easter lilies, hyacinths and potted plants. The evening service was attended by the members of Colorado Springs lodge No. 309, B. P. O. E.

With the two inscriptions, "Easter Joy" and "Christ Is Risen," as the central features, the floral decorations at the First Baptist church were among the most beautiful in the city. The full chorus sang the music with splendid effect.

"The Resurrection" was the sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Wilcox at the morning service at the First M. E. church, while in the evening Mrs. Mabel Conklin spoke on "Character Building." With palms, potted plants and Easter lilies the altar, rail, choir loft and platform were beautifully decorated.

Rose White Cross.

Pikes Peak commandery No. , Knights Templars, bearing a white cross, attended the morning services at the First Presbyterian church, in a body. Dr. Work took as his subject, "Remember Jesus Christ." The floral decorations were beautiful, calla lilies sent to Dr. Work from California forming the center of the mass of green and white.

The Rev. Clayton S. Brooks preached to the members of Myrtle lodge No. 31, Knights of Pythias, at the morning services at the First Christian church. In place of the regular evening services, the children of the Sunday school, in charge of Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Shove, gave an Easter entertainment. The lilies set off by the green of the potted plants and palms were strikingly beautiful.

"The Heavenly Life" was the inspiring subject of Dr. Gregg's morning sermon at the First Congregational church. Here also the decorations, though simple, were effective in emphasizing the beautiful teaching of Eastertide.

The City Christian Endeavor union held a special sunrise service at the First Baptist church yesterday morning.

MERCHANT POLICE WILL NOT UNITE

Messrs. Meislahn and McCabe today denied the report that they intended to surrender their clientele to the new detective bureau recently established by O. E. Rickerson and others. The present business was started by James McCabe and was carried on for about twenty years, until his death, when it was taken over by his son Ed. McCabe, who, with Mr. Meislahn, have built up a business as merchant police that includes nearly all of the business houses in the center of the city. As one of the officers said yesterday, "We are giving satisfaction to our patrons, and there is no reason why we should now surrender the business to strangers."

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold, and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all leading druggists.

Fully 1,000,000 gallons of applejack were distilled last year in northern New Jersey. The low prices prevailing for apples make this method of disposing of the fruit more profitable to the owners of orchards.

SNOW AND RAIN FOR OVER THIRTY-SIX HOURS

For an Easter storm the one which has held Colorado Springs in its grasp for the last 36 hours will come near to breaking all previous records. Rain started at 8 o'clock Saturday evening and did not hesitate for a minute up to 8 o'clock last night, when it changed to a heavy wet snow for variety's sake. At midnight nearly two inches of rain had fallen and there was no sign of ceasing. A high wind arose last night and it is probable that a blizzard was raging on the plains east of the city. Those who have watched weather conditions in this city for years say that no storm of as long a duration has visited Colorado Springs at Easter time for years.

The storm was so severe and the snow was packing so badly at midnight that the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company got out both its snow plows and worked them all the time until daylight keeping the street car tracks open. The plows had all they could do.

HERMIT OF MANITOU HELD IN PADDED CELL

Pending an investigation as to his sanity, Michael Ryan, better known as the hermit of Manitou, is in the county jail. He was arrested late Saturday evening by Town Marshal Al Cree as a result of his peculiar actions toward Professor M. C. Gile, whom he attacked with stones while the professor was passing his cabin. For some time the Manitou authorities have questioned the sanity of Ryan but so long as he committed no overt act the officers did not interfere. He will be held in the padded cell pending further investigation by Dr. H. L. Richardson, county physician.

MYSTERIOUS "MR. DOVE" IS NOT IN MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 23.—The reported apprehension of the mysterious "Mr. Dove," who is said to have killed Chauffeur William Bate in a suburb of Chicago last November, is denied by local authorities. No man answering to the description of the Chicago murderer is under arrest here, say the police.

DOCTORS FOR HALL OF FAME

MOVEMENT STARTED TO HAVE NAMES OF PHYSICIANS PLACED WITH OTHER CELEBRITIES.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 23.—Led by leading physicians of the western country with headquarters in Lincoln, a movement has been begun to secure the selection of the names of four doctors of medicine for the hall of fame at New York.

Interest, it has been declared, has been taken by the medical profession the country over and an effort will be made to include the name of one physician in the list of 26 celebrities that will this year be selected for a place in the hall.

MURDER FOLLOWED QUARREL OVER WOMAN IN HONOLULU.

HONOLULU, April 23.—A murder today followed a quarrel last night over a woman at a dance. E. Gonsalves and Frank Toro, Porto Ricans, were the parties to the quarrel.

The men met today in a cane field on a Honolulu plantation and Toro attacked Gonsalves with a whip. Gonsalves used a knife and cut Toro's throat. Gonsalves then horribly mutilated Toro's body, eight cuts being inflicted, any one of which would have been fatal.

When Gonsalves was arrested he admitted his guilt and assisted the officers in their search for the knife.
